I. COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course offers a history of China from the end of the imperial period (1911 CE) up to the present. We will cover the major historical events, developments, and trends—social, political, economic, military, philosophical, literary, and cultural. One focus of the course will be on primary sources. We will read (in translation) the most important writings from the period, focusing on political writings, including Sun Yat-Sen, Chiang Kia-shek, Mao Zedong, Deng Xiaoaping, and Xi Jinping. In the final weeks we will analyze the rise of China. We will take an interdisciplinary approach in order to better understand these primary texts in their historical context. Three hours of lecture per week.

Please note: This syllabus may be revised over the course of the term. Any changes to the syllabus will be announced on Blackboard.

II. PREREQUISITES
HIST 231 and HIST 232.

III. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES
Through successful completion of this course, students will achieve the following:
1. An understanding of the basic facts about modern China in their historical context, including important facts about the social, political, economic, and cultural features.
2. An ability to summarize and evaluate secondary sources.
3. Students will complete a ten-page (double-spaced) critical essay on one aspect of modern China (to be specified), analyzed in historical context. The paper should present (i) a well-formulated thesis, (ii) clear supporting arguments, (iii) persuasive evidence for each supporting argument, and (iv) a conclusion that synthesizes the central arguments.

IV. REQUIRED TEXTS
Required texts The following texts are required for the course:

Recommended texts In addition, students should consider consulting the following texts, which will be available through Blackboard and the TSU Library:
V. CLASS ORGANIZATION
Classes will be organized around lectures and discussion. Students are encouraged to ask questions at any time. Students are responsible for all material presented in class and for all assigned readings. The focus of the lectures will be close readings of the primary sources (translated into English) in their historical context. The secondary sources will usually not be discussed in class unless students raise specific questions about the readings. Students are responsible for all material presented in class and all announcements made in class.

VI. TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS
All TSU History classes make use of Blackboard. All students need to obtain access to Blackboard. In addition, they must have a TSU computer account, an e-mail account linked to Blackboard, and they must have a TSU Blackboard account. Students who do not have a computer or internet access can use computers in the various open labs on campus, or in various branches of the Houston Public Library. All students must have an e-mail account, and must link this e-mail account to Blackboard, and university accounts giving them access to Blackboard in order to function effectively in this course. If you do not have TSU computer accounts, you must acquire them as soon as possible. While you can link any e-mail account to Blackboard, we suggest you use a TSU account.

X. UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Academic Integrity The Texas Southern University 2019–2020 Undergraduate Catalog states the following:

Students must maintain a high standard of honesty in their academic work. They should avoid all forms of academic dishonesty, especially the following:

- Plagiarism. The appropriation of passages, either word for word (or in substance) from the writing of another and the incorporation of these as one’s own written work offered for credit.
- Collusion. Working with another person in the preparation of notes, themes, reports, or other written work offered for credit unless such collaboration is specifically approved in advance by the instructor.
- Cheating on an Examination or Quiz. Giving or receiving, offering or soliciting information, or using prepared material in an examination or testing situation is expressly forbidden. On examinations and quizzes students are expected (a) to remain in the examination room until the examination is finished, (b) to refrain from talking, and (c) to refrain from bringing notes and books into the examination room.
- Impersonation. Allowing another person to attend classes, take examinations or to do graded assignments for an enrolled student under his or her name is strictly forbidden.

A violator of any of the above offenses will incur severe disciplinary action ranging from suspension to expulsion from the University. Specific guidelines will be administered by each dean.

Grade of I The grade of “I” is given only when a student’s work is satisfactory in quality, but due to reasons beyond his or her control, the work has not been completed. The missing work may be a midterm or final examination, a term paper, or other work. It is not given in lieu of an F. The instructor will stipulate, in writing, at the time the grade is given the conditions under which the “I” may be removed. This temporary grade of “I” is non-punitive and semester hours for the course are not considered in the computation of the quality-point average. Removal must be within one calendar year after the “I” is assigned, or the “I” grade shall become an “F”. The grade “I” is not assigned if the student must retake the course. In the event a student who earns a grade of “I” decides to retake the course, the student is required to pay for that course.

Students with Disabilities Texas Southern University (TSU), Student Accessibility Services Office (SASO) provides individualized, reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Americans with Disabilities Amendment Act of 2008, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.
